ABOUT THE ICHIKOWITZ FAMILY FOUNDATION: Ivor Ichikowitz, well known as an industrialist and philanthropist with a passion for Africa, founded The Ichikowitz Family Foundation in 2010. His philanthropic work is based on intelligent giving, innovation, capacity building to develop educational, environmental and cultural programmes. A flagship pillar, the African Oral History Archive, promotes a new understanding of African modern history and uses various channels, such as film, music and art to foster dialogue between people and their heritage. Its Heritage Art Collection is a 'storyboard' of modern Southern Africa and includes renowned African artists. By sharing this Art Collection with the nation, The Foundation provides a time capsule of our transformation for future generations.
